TEN COMMANDMENTS FOR YOUR HOME TOWN.

(By Rev. E. Fred Eastman).

I. Thou shalt love thy home town above all other towns. Thou shalt speak no evil of her; thou shalt be loyal to her people, worthy of the great men and women of her past, confident in her present, and full of hope for her future.

H.

Thou shalt guard thy home town from the hosts of evil that would invade her and destroy her soul. The saloon, the gambling den and the house of iniquity shall thou crush under thy heel, for they are enemies of both God and man. Thou shalt keep the good name of the home town clean without stain or blemish.

III.

Thou shalt elect as thy public servants in political office, men of strong character, without fear or favor of the boss or the ring, eager to conserve the best interest of the people. And when thou has elected such men, thou shalt stand by them and support them and encourage them; for their temptations are many and their burdens are not light.

IV.

Thou shalt exalt thy public school and honor it all the days of thy life with the best of teachers, building and equipment, for the school is the cradle of democracy. Thy children are hers, and they shall be the citizens of tomorrow. No training is too good for them and no preparations superfluous.

V.

Thou shalt defend the health of thy home town from the death that lurks in marshes, swamps and heaps of filth. Thou shalt exterminate the fly and likewise the mosquito. The tumboc bacillus shall thou drive before thee with the sun and fresh air as thy allies.

VI.

Thou shalt build good roads and keep them good, for by her roads is a village known for good or evil. Thou shalt not be content with sand in thy cup holes, but only with oil and stone and tar. Eternal watchfulness shall be thy motto, that thy roads may not ravel nor thy supervisor forget thee.

VII.

Thou shalt keep thy home town beautiful. The hills, the trees, the waters, that nature has given her thou shalt preserve in sacred trust. No novel of man shall thou permit to disfigure them. Thou shalt keep thy home and thy door yards clean and cheerful. Thou shalt burn the caterpillar in his tent. Thy waters shall thou purify, that they may bring thee life and strength. The future of thy town shall thou plan with care and diligence, that thy growth be not haphazard, but full of thought and loving care as the plans of a mother for the growth of her child.

VIII.

Thou shalt go to church. Thou

BLIND, BUT THEY KNOW WORLD'S DOINGS, THANKS TO SOCIETY WOMEN'S READINGS

One of the most interesting of New York charities is depicted herewith. It shows Mrs. G. F. Gould, well known in society, reading to the inmates of the Home For Destitute Blind. It really puts many seeing women to shame in anything in the way of current events, and they can discuss the changes in the map of Europe with accuracy and fluency. As for political gossip, civic welfare and the many other subjects which appear in the dailies and magazines, they are freely discussed by these blind women. Every morning Mrs. Gould and several other ladies spend hours at the home reading aloud the news. While they read aloud the "news" (fingers) of the sightless men and women are busily engaged in their daily work, caning chairs, knitting, sewing, crocheting, etc.

COMPLIMENTARY to the visiting girls and those who will soon be leaving for school, Mrs. R. A. Hefner will entertain this evening at 8:30 o'clock, at her residence, 521 R, northwest.

Misses Maurine Easley, Joy Moore, Geneva Lykins and Letha Hancock formed a tennis party to the Country Club this morning.

Mrs. Charles Evans was a guest at the Country Club Wednesday night. She is en route to her home in Tulsa from Milburn.

Miss Sadie Baird, who has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. H. P. Nichols, will leave tomorrow for her home in Henryetta, Texas. While here Miss Baird has been entertained with a number of affairs given in her honor.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hall had as dinner guests at Darnick Hills Country Club last evening Mrs. Hubert Young and little daughter, Doris, of Dallas, Texas. Mrs. W. I. Cruce, Misses Italy Carter, Mary Boone, Messrs. Henry Boone and Gene Cruce.

Mr. W. I. Cruce had as guests at Chickasaw Lake last evening at six o'clock dinner Messrs. A. C. Cross of Oklahoma City and Reason of Kentucky. They remained at the club last night and were served with breakfast before returning to the city.

Community Poultry Raising.

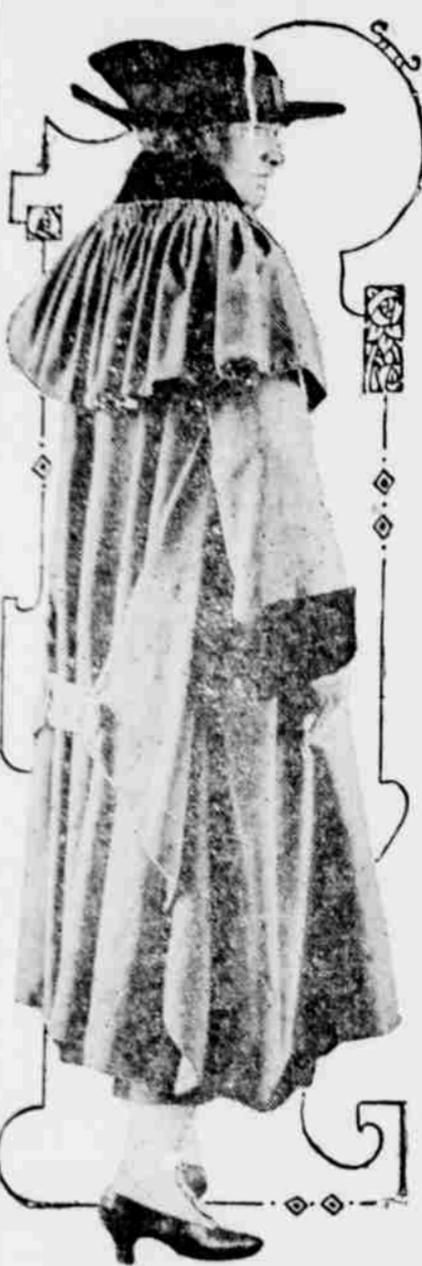

Manhattan, Kan., Aug. 30.—The community system of poultry breeding is a good way for farmers to make profits, according to W. A. Lippincott, professor of poultry husbandry at the Kansas state agricultural college. Under this system the whole community raises the same breed of poultry and hence has enough of one kind to fill a car at selling time, it was pointed out.

"The secret to the success in community poultry breeding," says Professor Lippincott, "lies in the fact that wholesalers and packers can pay better prices for a uniform product than for a mixed lot. The car load lot is the market unit and since a car holds 4,500 to 5,000 chickens, no individual producer raises a car lot in a season. In all probability a car of chickens of one kind has never been sold in Kansas."

"One community raising one breed of chickens can easily sell a carload each season. The packers will buy this uniform product, either directly from the producer or indirectly from the local dealer, in either case paying a higher price than for a mixed lot. If the local buyer gets a good price for the product, he will then pay the producer proportionately more."

When you yawn a good deal in the daytime, feel dull, achey and want to stretch frequently it is an unmistakable symptom of malaria, and unless you do something at once you are doomed for a spell of chills. HERBINE is a chill medicine that will prevent or cure the disease. It drives out the impurities on which the malarial germ thrives, strengthens the liver and cleanses the bowels. RUSHING THE SEASON.

Old rose velours, luminously and picturesquely cut, gives this gorgeous wrap. The black is draped and held by two huge buttons, while the cape effect is achieved by cartridge shirring. What lend a richness are the collar and cuffs of Hudson seal.

Krueger, Dyer, Abernathy, Gregory, Westheimer, Waltrip, E. R. Reid, Evans, Nichols, Morgan, Palmer of Oklahoma City, Anderson, Teer, Conroy, of Gainesville, Tex., Walcott, Buchanan, Broadway, Ledbetter, Feagin, J. B. Champion, Lynch, Bunn, Berkshire, Poland, Mullen, Wolverton, Hefner, Burrow, Frame, Guillot and Tucker. Silk hose were given as favors. Mrs. Hugh Ledbetter was awarded high score favor in bridge and Mrs. T. L. Wright was awarded high score favor in forty-two. On a cut, in which all participated, Mrs. S. A. Apple was presented with the consolation favor, which was also a pair of silk hose. A salad course was served.

Mr. George Coffman and daughter, Miss Josephine, have returned from Shawnee, Okla., where they visited for three weeks with friends and relatives. While there they attended a reunion of the Coffman family, which was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Coffman, nine miles west of Shawnee, on August 19 to August 21. Those in attendance were W. H. Coffman of Oakland, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Ashford, their children and their families, who live in the community of Mr. David Coffman, Mr. James A. Coffman of Itasca, Tex., Mr. and Mrs. John L. Coffman and two of their children, of Holdenville, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. David Coffman and their children, Mr. G. W. Coffman and daughter Josephine, of Ardmore, Okla., Mr. and Mrs. James Linear and children, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Barnes and children. Space will not permit the naming of each one present, but counting the young and old, there were fifty-three present for the six o'clock dinner on the 19th. They were all related, except Mr. and Mrs. Barnes, who are lifetime friends of the family. When dinner was announced the five brothers and one sister with her husband, and the wives of John L. and David Coffman, were invited to the dining room, there to enjoy a privilege they had not enjoyed for twenty-eight years—that of taking dinner together. The dinner consisted of many good things, and the manner in which it was prepared made it very appetizing. The nice brown fish and the homemade cream deserve special note. After dinner the time to a late hour, was spent in making music and singing, as the young people present made a splendid choir. Sunday a large percent of the party took lunch with Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Ashford, when again it was made plain that good farmers can have good things to eat. The day was spent in looking over old pictures and talking of things that happened long ago. Monday, eighteen of the men and boys went to the North Canadian river, where they spent the day in wading and spear fishing. They returned at 5:30 with 45 lbs. of fish. The entire party joined in preparing the fish for serving. When everything was ready the party repaired to the lawn of Mr. David Coffman, where the dinner was served. After this splendid feast they gathered in a small circle and the older ones entertained the younger set by telling old-time stories, singing old-time songs, and giving life experiences of forty years ago. They parted at one o'clock in the morning, hoping to meet again next year. The above mentioned homes were not decorated with the most beautiful flowers, but with a great spirit of love and sympathy for each other and their friends. It is a great inspiration to visit these homes and share their hospitality. The meeting was enjoyed by all to the extent that it will be long remembered.
